TUMMY

Dedicated to helping women through the different stages of pregnancy, it was evident to the makers of the Tummy Tucker that the process does not stop after giving birth. After pregnancy women need that extra support to help them through the natural transformation their body has undergone. The Swiss engineered Tummy Tucker started out as a test from world renowned doctors striving to find a way for new moms to naturally heal and get back to their former shape. After several attempts they perfected what has now become the world's favorite post-partum slimming belt.

Bamboo Original

Tummy Tucker is the renowned Swiss-engineered support band designed to be worn after birth. Made from the softest eco-friendly bamboo it gently binds your abdominal muscles to expedite fluids and offer optimal support. Tummy Tucker compresses your hips, stomach and waist which have all expanded during pregnancy, helping to quickly get you back into shape. Tummy Tucker is highly recommended after a C-section to assist in supporting the wound and muscle reformation by promoting natural healing. It also assists in reducing back discomfort by encouraging correct posture and spine alignment. Tummy Tucker in essence is the optimal tool to support, shape and make every new mom feel good.

Belly Helper

Because support is essential during pregnancy the makers of Tummy Tucker have revolutionized the maternity support belt. Belly Helper was constructed to give ultimate support to the belly and back while pregnant. Engineered to focus on sustaining the core abdominal and back muscles, it helps to minimize stretch marks by providing extra support to the hips. Belly Helper is unique in that it increases the circulation and blood flow which help to decrease varicose veins, hernias, and hemorrhoids. This in turn can alleviate bladder discomfort and ease sciatic, back, and leg pain. The best thing about Belly Helper is that it has 12" of adjustability for your growing belly!
