"I've got to tell you that I just bought the Prostate Cradle and believe that it is the greatest invention I can think of. I have to believe that when the secret gets out practically every man will own one. The unbelievable part is that it is non-invasive, and only requires proper placement and a little movement. I must admit to being a bit skeptical at first, but I can attest to the fact that it is absolutely amazing. This secret needs to get out to all men." - J.Z.
