- Brand-new light therapy device gives users a youthful complexion in one 10-minute treatment -

October 2019 - Hull-based health and beauty company, Collagenius®, launch their brand-new laser beauty product, Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device, to tighten and repair damaged and aging skin.

The ultimate hi-tech laser rejuvenation device harnesses blue light LED therapy with red laser light therapy and vibration to stimulate cell growth and delay signs of aging.

Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device (RRP £129.99) is an innovative way to achieve a youthful complexion without the need of paying clinical practice prices. The Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device utilises the latest technology and scientific findings in one home-use machine to give amazing results.

The Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device can be used to:

- Stimulate cell growth and circulation
- Delay skin aging
- Tighten the skin
- Improve muscle strength
- Repair and maintain skin elasticity

Blue Light Therapy

The blue light therapy feature of the Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device helps to calm the skin. The colour therapy lightly penetrates the skin at 470nm and acts as an anti-inflammatory against the skin, regulating skin secretions and minimising acne damage. Blue light therapy also works to clean and sterilise the skin surface, balance natural oils, improve wrinkles and shrink pores.

Red Light Therapy

Infrared light therapy optimises the condition of the skin. This light therapy penetrates the skin the deepest at a wavelength of 850nm. By increasing the temperature of the skin and expanding the micro vessels, the skin is able to breathe more freely, and toxins are easily discharged. Infrared therapy can also decrease the production of melanin and prevent acne.

Vibration Therapy

The Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device harnesses vibration technology to tone and tighten the face. Vibration therapy works at 3,500rpm and helps to relax the facial muscles whilst also improving their strength and flexibility.

Stephanie Taylor, Managing Director of Collagenius®, commented:

"We all want to be able to turn the clock back ten years on our facial skincare, but with the current prices for specialist surgery, it's just not a viable option. At Collagenius® we believe that when you look good, you feel good; so achieving your ideal complexion can be essential.

"The Collagenius® V-Facelift and Neck Contour Device allows users to fight the signs of aging in just ten minutes per day! We have replicated the light therapy technology from our current Collagenius® range into this product to ensure effortless and outstanding results."

About Collagenius®

Collagenius® is a health and beauty company that specialises in light therapy technology. Founded in 2018 by Stephanie Taylor, Collagenius® brings you the best light devices with the latest technology to improve the appearance of fine lines and wrinkle, promote hair growth and boost your mood and energy levels. The cells in your body naturally degrade as you age but research has found that low level light therapy can stimulate the cells to perform more effectively, reducing the effects of aging on your body! Collagenius® devices uses light at clinically proven wavelengths to penetrate deep into your body's cells, increasing the cell activity to leave you looking and feeling more youthful.
